

Karu.

Made by the last masters of the craft.

A design-showcase concept — the house that sells India's master artisans direct to the world. Every piece verified, every story kept, and the majority of each sale paid to the hand that made it.

HANDCRAFTED IN INDIA · COLLECTED WORLDWIDE

A gallery for India's makers — selling straight to the world.

For centuries the people who make India's finest crafts sold them for a fraction of their worth. Karu collapses the distance to a single line — maker to collector — and offers two ways to own the work.

OPTION ONE

Acquire a piece

Collect a verified, one-of-one work at a fixed price — or compete for a master piece at live auction. It ships with a certificate of authenticity and the maker's share printed in the open.

OPTION TWO

Commission your own

Have something made only for you — a family deity, a memorial figure. Karu matches you to the right master for the tradition, estimates it, and shepherds it from clay to your door.

Five hands stand between the maker and the world.

Every one takes a margin. By the time a handmade piece reaches a collector abroad its price has multiplied many times over — and the artisan who made it sees the smallest cut of all.

01 · THE MAKER

The artisan

₹4,000

02 · MARK-UP

Local trader

₹6,500

03 · MARK-UP

Exporter

₹11,000

04 · MARK-UP

Importer / gallery

₹19,000

05 · THE SHELF

Retail counter

₹28,000

1:7

maker's price to the retail shelf

~14%

the maker's typical share today

78%

what Karu pays the maker instead

The warmth of a sunlit workshop.

PALETTE

Sunlit sand
#f1e8d8

Espresso
#221a12

Terracotta
#a2472a

Turmeric gold
#b0884a

Indigo
#294049

Deep clay
#84381f

RECURRING MOTIF

Karu.

The hand is always at the centre — full-bleed, gallery-grade imagery, the clay-marked wordmark, and the maker's share printed on every page. Dark espresso bands punctuate a sunlit gallery.

TYPOGRAPHY

Fraunces

DISPLAY · the editorial serif, optical sizing, italic accents

Inter

UI & BODY · quiet humanist sans

Space Mono

LABELS · eyebrows, data, the studio chrome

Artisan-led hero

Full-bleed scroll gallery

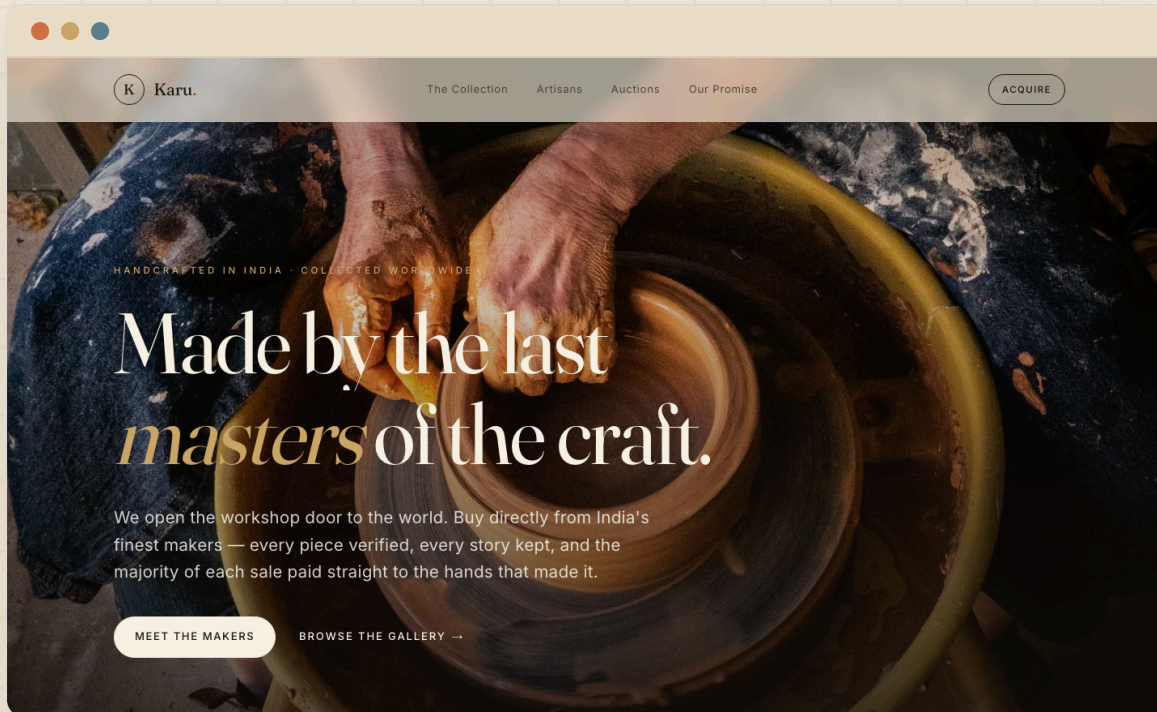

Live auction timer

Revenue-split bar

Hover image-swap

Scroll reveals & count-ups

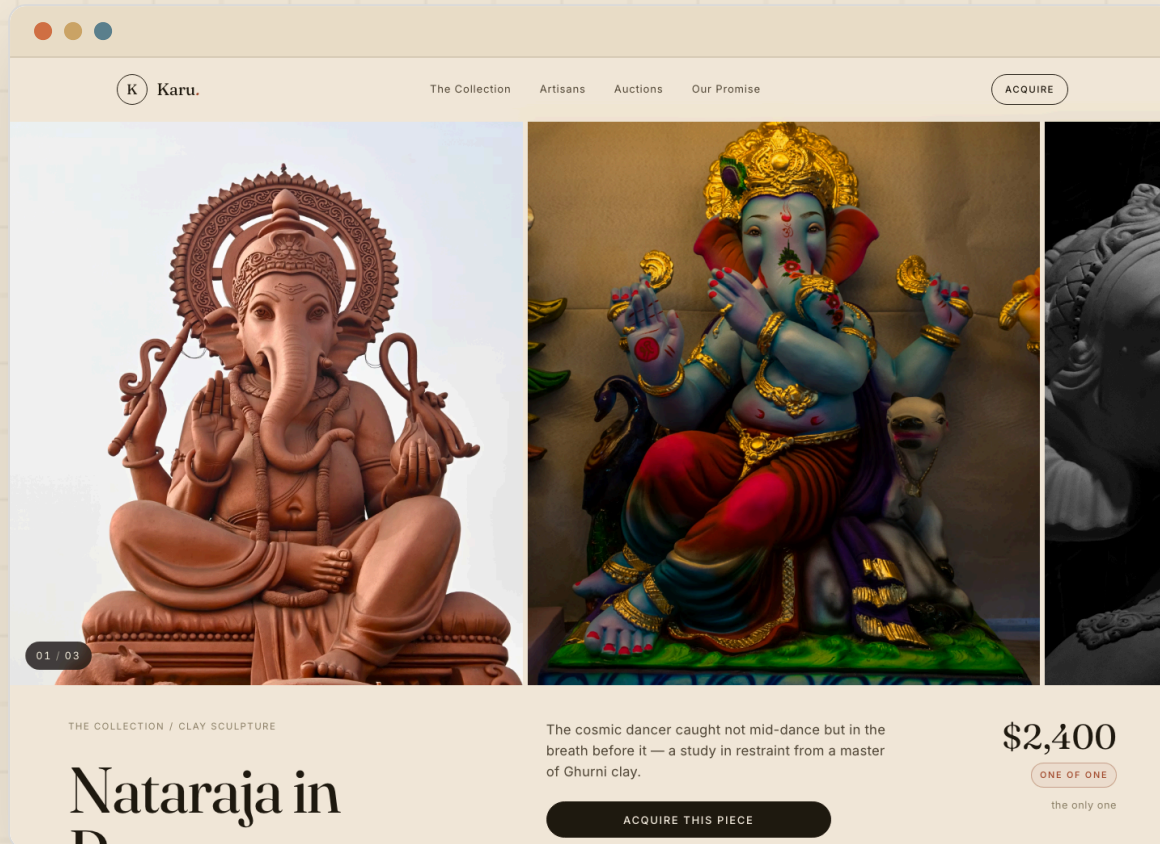

An argument, told in one scroll.

The landing opens on a maker's hands at the wheel. Every scroll is a beat in the case: who makes it, why it matters, what reaches the artisan, and how it travels to you — anywhere in the world.

- Artisan-led, full-bleed hero
- Kinetic line-by-line headline
- Trust ticker · 78% · 30+ countries
- "We are India's artisans" manifesto

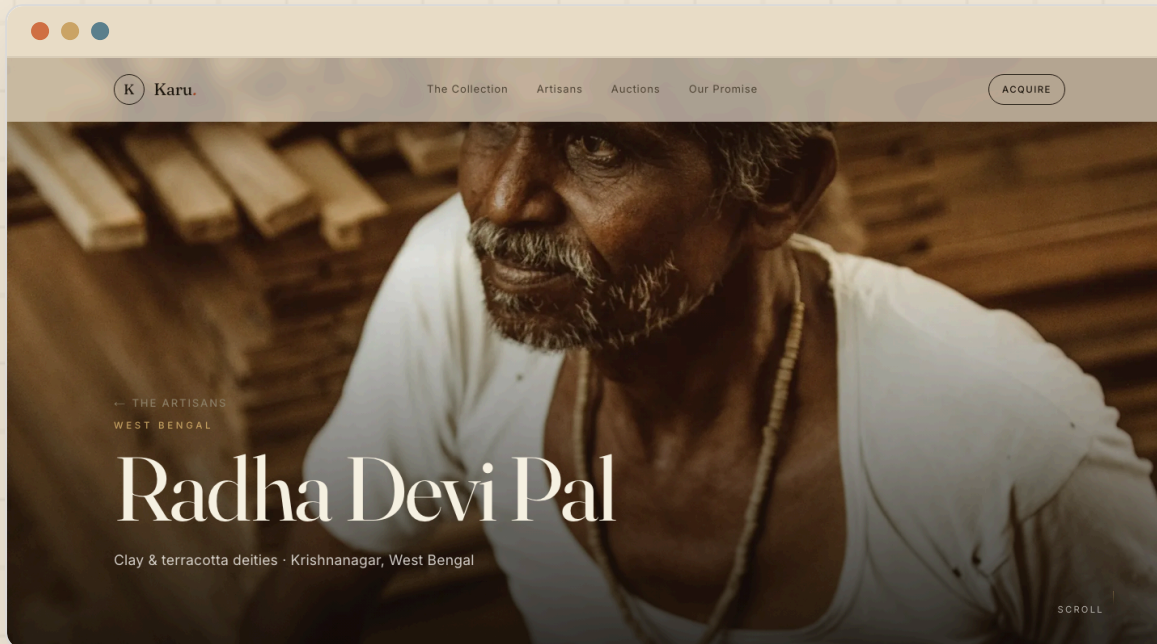

The piece, at gallery scale.

Modelled on the most immersive product pages on the web: large images run edge to edge, side by side, scrolled horizontally — then the title, story, provenance and the maker's share, with the buy panel held alongside.

- Full-bleed side-by-side gallery
- Live "01 / 03" counter on scroll
- Click-to-zoom lightbox
- Sticky buy panel + detail accordion

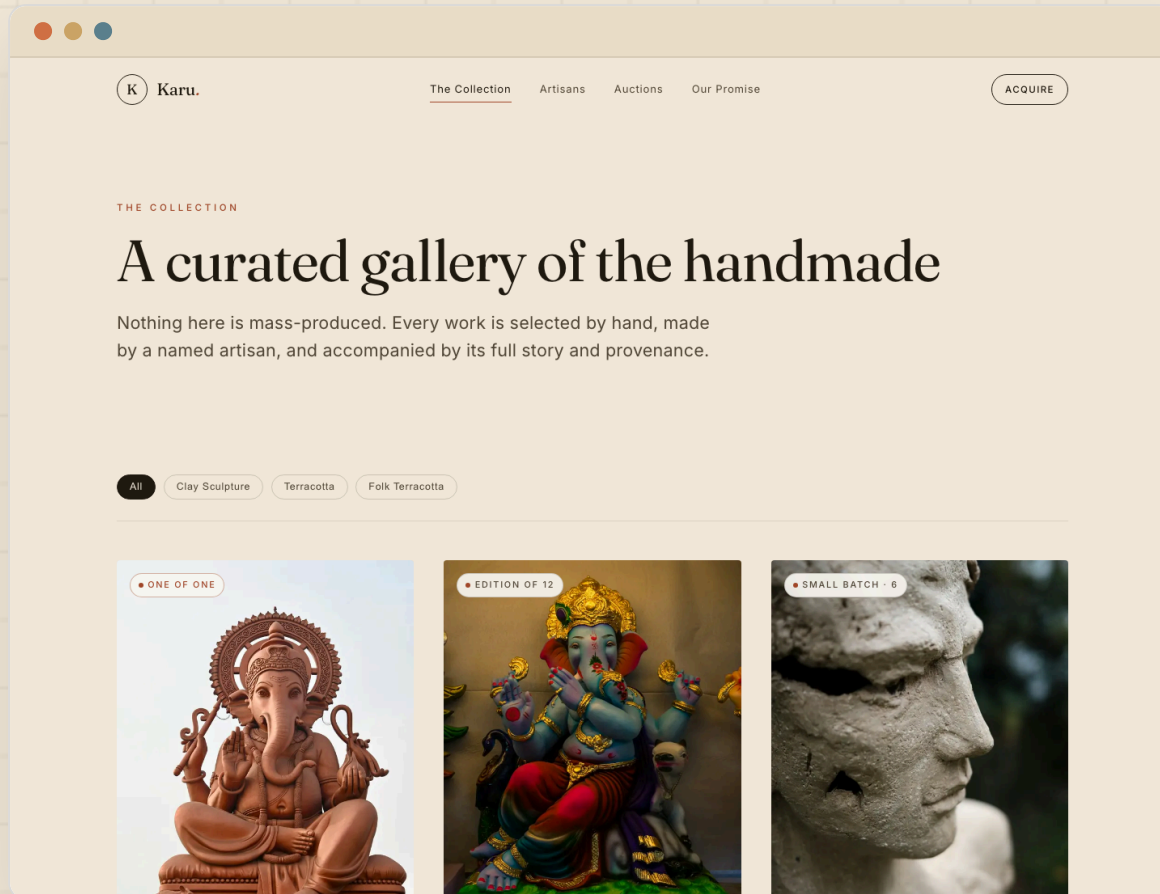

A maker, given a stage.

No anonymous inventory. Each artisan gets a cinematic page — a full-bleed portrait, the village and lineage, a count-up of their years, the tradition in their own words, and the works available now.

- Cinematic portrait hero
- Stat band — years · pieces · generation
- Sticky tradition pull-quote
- Workshop gallery + available works

A curated gallery of the handmade.

The collection reads like a gallery wall, filterable by craft — clay, terracotta, folk. Nothing is mass-produced; every card is a singular, verified piece, and hovering swaps to a second view of the work.

- Editorial, filterable grid
- CSS-only hover image-swap
- Scarcity tags — one of one, editions
- Live-auction lots flagged inline

The details are the design.

01

Scroll gallery

Large images side by side; a live counter tracks the leftmost view; click opens a keyboard-navigable lightbox.

02

Auction & split

A live countdown and bid stepper; every piece prints the maker's share as an animated revenue bar.

03

Reveal & count-up

Sections rise on an IntersectionObserver; the 78% and 30+ figures count up as they enter the view.

04

Reduced-motion

Every animation no-ops gracefully — the kinetic hero and tickers stand down on request.

Next.js 16

React 19

TypeScript

next/image

Fraunces · Inter

Hand-written CSS · no Tailwind

Karu.

The object was the easy part. The hand that made it is everything.

made. by ac

MADE-BY-AC.COM · CONCEPT DEMO